Do you want children someday?  Yes  No

Undecided

Do you already have children?  Yes  No

Do you smoke?  Yes  No

How would you describe your personality? Natural, kind, down-to-earth, sensitive, responsive, cheerful, friendly, caring

What is most important to you? Being healthy in body and mind. Establishing a relationship of trust between important people. Finding hobbies and my purpose in life.

What countries have you been to? Bali, Saipan, NY, LA, UK, Italy, France, Spain, Egypt

Is there anything about you that your future partner would want to know before becoming involved with you?  Yes  No — I got married when I was 30. Seven years later, I lost my husband to cancer. We didn't have kids. But I like children and I'd like to have some if we have the chance. He was Japanese and had been living overseas about 15 years. So, he showed me various expressions of love not typical for a Japanese. This is one of the reasons I'm seeking a foreigner as a lifetime partner.

What are your hopes and plans for the future? I can enjoy private time by myself. But, if possible, I'd like to have a family again. The time with family will provide more smiles and peace of mind. I don't mind where I live, Japan or overseas. I'll be interested in my partner's country's history, culture, language, customs, etc., and I'll make maximum effort to understand them. I hope you'll be the same.

What message would you like to send to your future spouse? How about establishing a peaceful relationship while supporting each other in good times and bad by respecting each other and spending enough time together?
